Programmes and services for adults with learning/intellectual disability and/or autism

An incredABLE Welcome!

We provide a range of meaningful and inclusive opportunities for adults with learning/intellectual disabilities and/or autism across the Southern Health and Social Trust Area. Our services include short breaks/respice, individualised/bespoke support; social, recreational and personal development programming as well as holiday provision in a community-based setting.

All opportunities are delivered using a holistic and person-centred approach by an extensive team of qualified incredABLE staff, fully care trained with backgrounds in a variety of health and social care disciplines.

Programmes are devised to meet the requirements of adults from the age of eighteen whose social needs cannot be met by mainstream services without reasonable adjustments or the support of specialist learning/intellectual disability or autism services.

Opportunities are delivered across multiple sites, localities and in response to demand with community integration and inclusion a core principle.

Learning and being responsive underpins everything we do, shaping it as we go. The range of our interventions may change in response to our learning over time.
